

THE MONTCLAIR BIRD CLUB

QUIZ 132

January 23, 2022

What is a vulture cardinal?

Link to ponder: Accessible Bird Feeders.

THE ANSWER IS ON THE NEXT PAGE

The name, coined by George Miksch Sutton, refers to northern cardinals that for whatever reason lose all their head feathers at once in the prebasic molt, leaving them with naked heads until the new feathers grow in.

Ornithological Quiz Master: Rick Wright
Assistant & Photographer: Sandy Sorkin

Southwest Wings

